THE SCOPE OF THE CONFERENCE

The central topic of the conference is (but NOT limited) to improve the well-being of consumers and families. We would like to broadly invite researchers to submit original micro- and macro-level studies to this conference. Professionals in (but NOT limited to) the following fields are welcome to submit papers, poster proposals, and panel proposals addressing empirical, theoretical, methodological, pedagogical, and policy issues as they apply in any countries' context (NOT limited to Asian countries/ regions).

Family Economics	Management
Consumer Economics	Labor Economics
Financial Economics/ Microfinance	International Economics
Marketing	Real Estate Market
Public Economics	Regional Studies
Health Economics	Institutional Economics
Demography/ Population Economics	Gender Economics
Political Science	Education
Social Security	Psychology
Sociology/Social Work	Home Economics

We also welcome you to organize panels for special issue of Economic Modelling Special Issue, North American Journal of Economics and Finance, and Journal of Financial Counseling and Planning, respectively, if articles are not really closed to the consumer and family economics but related to the main themes of three special issues as mentioned below.

Although English is the only language for your presentations in this conference, Chinese papers are also acceptable this time for encouraging more Chinese scholars who are more comfortable in speaking Chinese to attend this conference. Therefore, if you want to present papers in Chinese or to propose Chinese panels, please put a note on your submissions and proposals. However, only papers written in English can be submitted to the three special issues.
